

Ströer Review Check

Benefit from a high deletion rate of negative Google reviews with our Ströer Review Check. These can include, for example, unfounded 1-star ratings, untrue factual claims or, after a company has been taken over, the legacy of the previous owner. In any case, you benefit from the deletion of a misleading review by protecting your company's reputation from damage. As Ströer, we pay attention to integrity, which is why the final review and decision as to whether a review is deleted remains with Google. For this reason, you will only incur costs in the event of successful deletion by the portal.

Only reviews with 1-3 stars can be submitted to Google. If a review has been deleted, the Google user will be informed by Google and can then submit a new rating. Deletion is therefore no guarantee that an identical or similar review by the same author will not be created again. It can also happen that the author complains about the deletion attempt in a new review.
